

Wedding Stationery Bespoke service

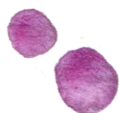

My bespoke wedding stationery service gives you the chance to create something truly personal and one of a kind. I'll work closely with you to bring your vision for your special day to life.

One of my happiest memories will always be my own wedding day, it was such a joyful celebration! Designing all the little details with my husband to reflect who we are and what we love was incredibly special. Our stationery played a huge part in that, we chose to include our dog Pippin and named our tables after our favourite books. Those paintings are framed around our home and are the loveliest reminders of our day.

That feeling is exactly what inspires me to create for other couples. I love capturing your personalities, your style, and your story, weaving them together in your stationery. Whether it's inspired by your venue, your flowers, or even a beloved pet joining you on the day, every detail helps tell your unique story. Your stationery is the first glimpse your guests get of your wedding, and helps to set the tone for everything to come.

I've put together different options to give you a starting point, but everything I do is fully flexible. If you'd like to chat about your ideas, I'd love to hear from you so we can work together and craft something beautifully bespoke for your celebration.

Pricing and the process

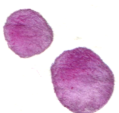

My packages are for the customized to fit your different levels of design needs. They included the artwork creation and the additional digital designing of your different stationery elements. You will be given the original paintings of all of your artworks created, these make the most beautiful keepsakes for your day!

This is put together as your one off fee. This is to cover the research, watercolour painting, the digital designing and arranging of printing involved in creating your stationery.

I have a large range of small painting motifs from bees, butterflies to little leaves which I can add in to compliment your designs at no extra charge. You can also request to use any of my larger existing artworks to form part of your stationery designs (for example to create a wildlife themed table plan) at a small extra charge £5 per painting.

After you have chosen your package level for the artwork and this is paid as your one off design fee, all stationery printing choices and amounts are then chosen from my set pricing lists for each printed element.
